

Civil Litigation

There are certain standards of conduct that society expects everyone to live by. Society enforces violations of some standards by criminal laws; and enforces some standards by monetary awards.

Personal Injury / Wrongful Death

Personal injuries or death caused by the wrongful conduct of another has devastating effects on individuals and families. Monetary awards will never fully heal the serious physical, emotional, or financial hardship suffered due to wrongful conduct. Our dedication to our clients is to assure they receive just compensation for their loss so they have the means to put their lives back together.

Fraudulent Debt Collection / Consumer Fraud

Personal financial hardship can be the most humiliating circumstance a person can suffer. Debt collectors can add to this humiliation by engaging in harassing or unconscionable practices. There are laws that protect debtors from these actions.

Likewise there are laws that protect consumers from fraudulent or deceptive business practices. Consumers do not have to accept they "got taken," "ripped off," or made a bad deal, if they were deceived into the purchase.

Many individuals often do not seek legal advice because they fear the cost or expense of attorney's fees. However, if you have a meritorious claim and you prevail in your claim, the law allows for recovery of your reasonable and necessary attorney's fees.
